

ADVANCE PAY

You may apply for an advance of your military pay. The maximum amount allowable is your base pay, minus deductions, times three. Taxes, FICA, SGLI, AFRH, and any other item that appears in the "Deductions" column of your LES (do not include your MM-Pay) will be subtracted from your advance.

- a. If you are an E-4 or above, you may apply for one month's advance pay based on your own signature. If you need an advance for more than one month's pay (not to exceed three months), you must obtain your commander's authorization.
- b. If you are an E-3 or below, your commander must approve your advance, regardless of the amount.
- c. OTHER RESTRICTIONS MAY APPLY: Contact the Finance Customer Service section for more information.
